NG911: How Do We Pay for This?

April 26, 2018 • 2:00 pm ET

Funding for new technology is never easy, especially at the local-government level, which is where the budgets for most 911 and PSAP systems reside. Gain insights on the status of proposed federal legislation and state initiatives to deploy NG911, as well as whether any potential synergies may exist with FirstNet or smart-community initiatives.

Location Services: Why Can't 911 Find Me But My Rideshare Can?

May 31 2018 • 2:00 pm ET

With the advent of mobile-phone technology, 911 isn't working like it should. At the push of a button, consumers can get a ride, a meal – even a dog sitter – delivered to our exact location. But responders can face severe challenges finding our location during an emergency, particularly in urban areas with high-rise buildings. Examine how partnerships with operators, emergency responders and municipalities are working to address this issue and how new technologies are changing the paradigm.

Operational Considerations for NG911

June 28, 2018 • 2:00 pm ET

Learn more about the technical capabilities enabled by NG911 and the operational opportunities – and challenges – they present to PSAPs. From the tech to the dispatcher, explore the readiness at the local and regional levels to adapt to potential operational and technical changes, including the ability to receive, process and distribute photos and videos from the public to first responders in a manner that makes the information usable and actionable in the field during an emergency response.
